

GOOD NEWS FOR HAWAII.

THE SAMOAN APPOINTEES BRING IT.

Land Commissioner Chambers, a Relative of Blount, on Our Affairs.

In an interview at President Dole's house yesterday afternoon, U. S. Land Commissioner Chambers, who is on his way to Samoa, said emphatically that there was no truth in the published reports from Washington that Mr. Blount had recommended, or that Mr. Cleveland contemplated any action in Hawaii which would tend to the restoration of the political ascendancy of the native race in any form whatever. It was the intention to promote American interests and to maintain American ascendancy in Hawaii. The Provisional Government would probably be recommended to take a vote on perhaps the question of annexation. But the property qualification for the voters would be placed very high, not less than $1000 income.

Mr. Chambers disclaimed the possession of any confidential information, although intimate with Secretary Herbert of the Navy, his former partner, Mrs. Chambers also being a niece of Mrs. Blount. He was well acquainted however with the opinions on the subject prevailing in the departments in Washington, as well as in Congress.

A less extended conversation with Chief Justice Ide, as far as it went, fully corroborated the opinions expressed by Mr. Chambers. Both these gentlemen are by former experience in Samoa, conversant with the natural relations between native Polynesians and the white race residing among them, and are deeply interested in the issues now existing in Hawaii.

PROFESSOR KOEBELE

Writes to Commissioner Marsden About Ladybirds and Blight.

From a letter received by Commissioner Marsden from Professor Koebele the STAR is permitted to extract the following: "I send six boxes of ladybirds in the ice-house which contain a variety of species all beneficial. It would be well if you would liberate them as soon as convenient, since they will not live long if warm and confined in the boxes. Select an orange or other tree surrounded by others infested with lecanium, if possible, or, if this scale is not present, fulvuraria will do, although the first named would be better, and turn all the insects out upon the one tree, so that they remain together at first. After copulation they will spread of their own accord. Two boxes are sent separately and not upon ice. The first contains twenty-eight pupae of the Oreus Australasia, an insect lately introduced from Australia which feeds upon various scales but seems to prefer the lecanium. The second contains larvae, pupae and imagoes of the Rhizobius ventralis, only introduced here while I was in Australia last. It has increased here so rapidly that it is found by the million upon Hon. Ellwood Cooper's ranch at Santa Barbara, feeding upon the olive scale, lecanium and others. This box also contains specimens of the Rhizobius debilis and Rhizobius Toxostoma, which feed on a variety of coccids, aspidiotus and lecanium. This box must be fastened on a branch of a tree infested with lecanium and protected with a covering, so that the rain will not destroy any of the pupae, the covering of the box, of course, being left open. It will be best to form an insect colony in one place, and in a few months distribute from there to other districts. Preserve all the boxes and dead material till I come; shall continue to forward more insects by each steamer until I can arrange to come personally."

THE MIDWINTER FAIR.

Good Progress Being Made on the Hawaiian Exhibit.

While the subscriptions of stock to the company which is being formed to take control of the Hawaiian exhibit and village at the Midwinter Fair in San Francisco are not coming in as rapidly as could be wished, a STAR representative learned this morning that enough money has been guaranteed to make the thing a success and that the exhibit will be one of which all Hawaiians may be proud.

M. McVoy, a former teacher at the Kamehameha schools, who left here two years ago, is expected to return on the next Australia for the purpose of superintending the gathering of exhibits for the Hawaiian village. This work has been already commenced by several other parties interested in the success of the exhibit, but on Mr. McVoy's arrival everything will be placed in his charge and he will devote his whole time to attending to the necessary details connected with it.

Captain Matson, who owns a line of packets running between Hilo and San Francisco has offered to take and return all exhibits from the island of Hawaii free of charge. He has already offered to take thirty cords of tree ferns, including roots, stumps, etc., free. The company highly appreciated Captain Matson's generosity.

A COMPLETE FAILURE.

McDOWELL'S DREAMS WERE VAIN.

The Effort to Float the Miowera this Morning Resulted in Breaking Gear Only.

That McDowell has failed completely in his undertaking to float the Miowera there can be no doubt, at this morning when the tide was at its highest he was ready with his tackle, and after doing his utmost succeeded only in breaking a few ropes and blocks.

All who have watched the proceedings express sympathy for the contractor, but not a vestige of confidence in his ability to fulfill his contract remains.

Throughout the night the ship rolled constantly, the grinding of the poles and chafing gear against the sides making sleep for those on board out of the question.

About 5 A. M. Mr. McDowell came on board and soon after the gear was tightened and the work was begun. When the strain began to grow heavy the tackle came to pieces, and throughout the time of high water the principal part of the work seemed to lie in putting in new blocks or ropes. Twice the forward pole on the starboard side broke loose, and the second time was followed by first the starboard and then the port poles nearest the stern, and when it was finally understood that further work was a waste of time and material, the poles, the guys of which had given way, were left leaning far out from the ship's side at the top, and the gear, the men and the ship itself wore a helpless, discouraged look. When asked if he would be able to procure an extension of time and try it again, Mr. McDowell said he supposed so, but looked so disheartened when he said it that it was easy to see that he had lost faith in the success of his project.

The ship is leaking slightly under her engine room, but her officers claim that the leak amounts to nothing. In the steward's department the men are growing very much dissatisfied, and it is said by them that they are not allowed to come ashore long enough to get a change of clothing, although there is nothing whatever for them to do aboard ship, and why they are kept so close prisoners they are unable to say.

During the morning the divers were ordered to get ready to go out to the wreck to make a survey, this survey is only for the purpose of enabling Capt. Metcalfe to decide on his plan of action, and the facts concerning the vessels bed are too well known to bear repetition.

It is believed that Captain Metcalfe will be the next to work on the vessel, but till his survey is completed he can form no plans, and is very reticent about what they may possibly be.

A Delightful Affair.

President and Mrs. Dole gave a delightful garden party at their home on Emma street yesterday. They received their friends on the lawn in the shade of the trees and from 3 to 5 o'clock Honolulu's best society drank coffee, ate ices and cake and otherwise enjoyed itself. Professor Berger, brought up his full band and filled the air with melody. Besides people of official distinction living here, Samoa's new Chief Justice and Land Commissioner were present.

The Sugar Crop.

Castle & Cooke's recent circular letter states the latest estimates of the sugar crop of the world for the season of 1893-4 to be 5,982,000 in 1892 and 6,237,000 in 1891. This would indicate a shortage as compared with last year's crop of 238,000 tons, and of 1891 of 255,000 tons.

Dr. Henri McGrew's Condition.

Dr. and Mrs. McGrew received the sad news by the last steamer that Dr. Henri McGrew was lying unconscious and paralyzed in his rooms at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco. They fear that by this time he is dead and will have an anxious week of waiting for further news by the Australia.

THE KILAUEA PANORAMA

MIDWAY ORACLES FROM THE EXHIBITION.

The Cyclorama and the Hawaiian Quartette Are Simply Coining Money of Late.

From a private letter received yesterday from Minister Thurston it is learned that the business of the Cyclorama is increasing rapidly as the Fair draws to a close. The Hawaiian quartette has proved quite a drawing card and their singing adds greatly to the attraction of the panorama. The receipts of the Cyclorama on October 9th, the great Chicago day, were $733; on the next day they were $742 50 and on the day following $831. At this rate there should be another dividend in sight very shortly.

A recent number of the Chicago Figaro contains two excellent photographs of the Hawaiian quartette and of Henry J. Lyman, the lecturer of the Cyclorama. From an article which they embellish the following is taken: "As you go up and down the Midway Plaisance it is not only your eyes that are assailed by strange sights, your ears are struck by curious sounds. Leaving out of the question the Oriental music; the voices of the talented gentlemen who proclaim the beauties of the exhibitions they are advertising are very interesting to listen to. It takes more than ordinary ability to do that sort of thing. So it is not to be wondered at that some of these good people are persons of excellent education, and varied experience. A walk among these people reveals much that is of interest."

Mr. Henry J. Lyman, of Honolulu, is the popular young lecturer in the Midway Panorama of Kilauea. Having lived within thirty miles of the lava beds and the burning lakes he is familiar with the strange superstitions of the people who offer prayers to Pele, the goddess of fire, and throw pigs and valuables in the lake that the eruptions may cease. This was done as late as 1881. Mr. Lyman is in class '94 of Cornell. His father is largely interested in coffee raising, which is a comparatively new enterprise in Hawaii, but proves a great field for capitalists.

"Four singers, who comprised the late King Kalakaua's quartet, arrived at the Kilauea Panorama a month ago, and entertain the visitors with delightful strains of music. The sweet, plaintive songs, with the guitar melodies, suggestive of the charming life, luxuriant climate and dreamy moonlight nights on the island. The smallest instrument used by the quartette is called a "Huku Lele," which resembles a guitar except in size. The singers have strong, intellectual faces and appear very attractive in their white Hawaiian costumes. This is their first visit to the States, and they find the climate most unpleasant."

Minister Thurston's letter was dictated to a stenographer and typewritten while he was journeying from Chicago to New York by the "Pennsylvania Limited" express. This train makes the trip in twenty hours and for the convenience of passengers is provided with ladies' maids, stenographers, the latest financial reports and produce quotations, observation cars, U. S. mail boxes, bathrooms and barber shops.

ARRESTED FOR LIBEL.

The Editor of the "Holomua" is the Latest Victim.

Edmund Norrie, editor of the Holomua, was arrested about noon to-day on a charge of criminal libel preferred by T. W. Hobron. The alleged libel is contained in an article published yesterday's Holomua, criticising the Hawaiian news which appeared in a recent issue of the San Francisco Chronicle and which the Holomua wrongfully attributes to its former correspondent here. It may be news for the Holomua to learn that Mr. Hobron has written nothing for the Chronicle since the 1st of September, and that the article on which the libel is based is an Associated Press dispatch.

THE KATZENJAMMER SUIT

DECIDED BY THE SUPREME COURT TO-DAY.

The Demurrer of the Defendant is Sustained by the Highest Court in the Land.

The Supreme Court this morning handed down its decision in the libel suit of Claus Spreckels against Walter G. Smith, Editor of the STAR. The opinion is by Justice Frear and is concurred in by the Chief Justice and Justice Bickerton, and sustains the demurrer of the defendant. In its opinion the Court says:

"The publication in question is ambiguous. Read in their literal sense the words do not refer to Claus Spreckels, nor are they of a libellous nature. Certain intrinsic facts are averred to show that the words refer to Claus Spreckels, and there is a colloquium that the words were published of and concerning Claus Spreckels, but there is no colloquium that they were published of and concerning the intrinsic facts set forth in the averments, nor are there any averments of intrinsic facts, or colloquia to show that the words are used in a libellous sense. Innuendoes alone are not sufficient; they may explain what already appears upon the record as a ground for the explanation but they cannot add to or alter the sense of the expressions as usually understood. The publication in question is allegorical or ambiguous as to other matters, for instance, as to the country and the political parties or situation in the country of which, as well as to the person of whom, it is written. There should be averments and colloquia to explain the allegorical language. If the indictment contained proper averments and colloquia to show that the meaning set forth in the innuendoes might reasonably be put upon the words of the publication, it would be for the jury to say whether the averments are established by the evidence, whether the colloquia are true and whether the innuendoes express the real meaning of the words.

The effect of the decision will be to throw the case back into the Circuit Court, where the presiding judge will have to decide whether an amendment to the indictment can be allowed at this stage of the proceedings. If not, the present indictment must be dismissed.

Miss Krout's Good Work.

A letter from Professor Alexander says that faithful and meritorious work for annexation is being done by Miss Mary Krout, who was here last winter as a correspondent. As president of the Woman's League of Press Clubs she has enlisted a great many useful pens for the cause. Several women's organizations at the World's Fair have been influenced to favor annexation by Miss Krout, and she has done effective work among public men at Washington.

THE S. N. CASTLE SAILS FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

That Large Man-of-War—Brewer's Wharf—The C. R. Bishop Arrives—A Stowaway Returned.

Wandering Willie, who mystified the officers yesterday by so suddenly disappearing, was captured last evening, and after having been locked up all night was escorted on board the S. N. Castle this morning by a sturdy limb of the law. On the wharf he registered a large-sized kick with Mr. Whitney, who furnished him with a chance to work out his return passage to the Golden Gate.

SUGAR IN HAWAII.

It is not considered certain that the tariff bill to be reported by the Committee on Ways and Means will place an import duty of 1 cent or 1½ cents on sugar. This is a solution of the question that both parties would agree to. When the Republicans took the duty off there was a surplus revenue; now there is a deficiency. If wool is put on the free list it will be almost a necessity to derive some revenues from sugar. Besides, the Louisiana cane sugar growers are determined to have protection in one form or another. As they cannot get a bounty out of a Democratic Congress they will make a fight for as high a duty as they can get. Republicans will fall the more readily into the plan as the sugar beet industry of the North is of sufficient magnitude to demand protection. In this State the industry is rapidly increasing, and with a bounty or with duties on foreign sugar it will be profitable and permanent. A duty of one cent a pound, if there could be assurance that it would be maintained a long period of years, would direct the attention of men with small capital to the production of sugar beets. The masses of the people will not be pleased at the prospect of having to pay a cent a pound more for sugar than at present, but as a majority of voters voted to overthrow the administration that gave them free sugar the only way the people can logically express disapprobation of a reimposition of sugar duties would be to overthrow the administration that restores the tax. But that is a matter that especially concerns Democrats. To the Hawaiian Islands sugar-planter the proposition to impose duties on sugar has an especial interest. He does not share the protection afforded by the bounty, but gets nearly the full benefit of protection from the tariff as long as the reciprocity treaty remains in force. The Hawaiian planter would feel safer with the islands a part of the United States, as in no case can he as a foreigner share the bounty on sugar, and is in danger of being cut off from the benefits of a tariff by a failure to renew the reciprocity treaty.—Call.
